

ACCAC Week 7 Review

Notes:

Let's just quit wasting our time and start the play-offs today. I am tired of the regular season.

As for the women, I have an idea...lets combine the 4 teams that are left ,and send an ACCAC team to districts and nationals. I think if we combined all the teams in the league, it would be enough players for 2 full teams, no joking, really!

Men:

Yavapai def. Scottsdale, 8-0

Yavapai dismantled the SCC team, who is down to 13 players, with 12 players out with season ending injuries. SCC was one of my sleeper picks, but when players like Akhil Jackson go down, it is hard to recover. Yavapai clinched yet another ACCAC regular season championship with this win.

Paradise Valley def. Scottsdale, 3-0

The Pumas get back to their winning ways, knocking off the lifeless Chokes.

Yavapai def. Phoenix, 3-2

Yavapai gave up the early goal, but scored 3 straight to put The Bears chances of an upset to rest.

Pima def. Glendale, 5-0

Glendale is back to their goal-less ways in this one as Fernando Guana lead the charge. He may be the best player in the conference.

Arizona Western def. Pima, 3-2 (ot)

Western gave up 2 early goals, both by Guana, and trailed by 2 at the half. But The Matadors charged back (Pun intended) to tie the match in the second half, and would find the winner in over time to shock The Aztecs and keep their own play-off hopes alive.

South Mountain def. Phoenix, 3-2

The Cougars keep winning, that's all that matters. A win is a win at this stage, and that is all that matters.

South Mountain def. Glendale, 3-2

SMCC moved into 4th place, right on the heels of Mesa with this win over Glendale. Even though The Gauchos got on the board twice, South held them off for the important victory.

Arizona Western def. Chandler-Gilbert, 3-2

There was controversy in this one. The referee was none other than former CGCC assistant coach Alan Chapman (he always seems to ref his old teams). But you would think it would help The Coyotes, and it did early with the awarding of a PK, but Jesse Baker would be denied. From there, the tables would turn, as Chapman would give The Coyotes a red card and 2 PK's against them to help The Matadors "Ole" to another victory.

Mesa tied Paradise Valley, 1-1

With leading scorer Nick Auditore out for a few weeks with a knee sprain, The T-Birds are looking to hold the ship up until play-off time. A draw (which seems to hurt just as bad as a loss in this league) would be what Mesa would settle for, as The Pumas continue to struggle in the second half of the season.

Mesa def. Chandler-Gilbert, 2-1

No Auditore, no problem! Mesa would continue its dominance over rival's CGCC. With the loss, The Coyotes would slip into....8th place....(no comment), while Mesa would jump up to 3rd.

Women's:

P. Valley 2 Scottsdale 1

PVCC would DOMINATE this game, and the score would not show the way this game was dominated by The Pumas.....SHUT UP!!!!!! You won 2-1 against the last place team...oh well, take it and move on, save us the dominance talk. If you really dominated them, the score would be 8-0 or something. Beat a team 8-0, then talk about how you dominated them.

Pima 4 Glendale 1

Pima is at the top, and is a clear #1. Who can knock them off? I think The Coyotes can, but we will see come play-off time.

Pima 3 Cochise 0

Pima would knock off their southern AZ rivals in this one. With The Lady Apaches missing the key players from their early season success, there is little hope for them down the stretch.

P. Valley 4 Mesa 0

Now this is a win to be proud of.....last year!!!

Chan/Gilbert 3 Mesa 0

The Coyotes woke up on the right side of the bed and showed the good side today. I think they will get it together come play-off time and be tough. Mesa is back to fielding the 10 player side again, which is pathetic.
